

Words of Conspiracy of Cells of Fire

Your event, creates cracks in the concrete universe surrounding us, as it tries to lighten things and situations concerning a reality we have experienced and we re still experiencing.

The video for the Phoenix plan you re going to show, was a video made for an event in Athens where we were going to intervene telephonically to describe the new charges that led us to one more trial. It was about the charges of inciting some attacks that were carried out in the context of the Phoenix project, which starts with the blowing of the Korydallos prison director's personal car by the Conspiracy of Cells of Fire, Core Sole/Boleno.

At that time, all imprisoned members of CCF in their letter had hailed this action, and on that letter they based the new indictment. In the video one can hear the voices of the imprisoned members.

The book "Our day will come" is an editorial attempt of comrades from Chile who tried to record the story of an attempted escape of the CCF members and all that followed. Arrests of CCF members' relatives and the hunger strike they had for the release of those relatives.

In both cases there is a (common) central axis: the desire of some imprisoned anarchists not to accept the conditions of their captivity. Through these stories one can see that either one way or the other, the unquenchable thirst for action and for freedom can not be stifled.

We hope this message will warm your hearts and make you feel closer to us despite the countless kilometers separating us.

We send our warmest greetings to the comrades who took the initiative to contact us and who prepared this event, as well as all the comrades attending it.

A flaming hug from the prison cells of the greek republic.
